Spectrum Quartz features movement similar to that of natural marble and granite and may vary in color, pattern, and shade. Spectrum Quartz is not a seamless product and these variations may be more noticeable where the product is joined in seams. Printed representations may vary from actual product and this catalog and the SpectrumQuartz.com website may not accurately convey the color of the actual product. Viewing a physical sample is highly recommended prior to purchasing. Samples are a small section of the actual product and cannot fully convey the movement and visual aesthetics of an installed product. It is highly suggested to visit SpectrumQuartz.com to view the appearance of a large slab prior to purchase. The Strata, Alpine, and Elegance Collections have especially large scale, random movement and veining that may not be visible from a smaller sample. Slabs of these collections will vary from one to the next and that randomness is intended.
